"First, LBI had great communication with the design team and project supervision. This allowed us to implement end user changes into the project without any major change orders. Second, LBI kept the project on schedule despite having to deal with existing conditions and a very confined site. They were able to construct the jail with no impact on the daily jail operations."

"I appreciate your ability to work within our system, to stay on budget, and to maintain a low profile regarding questions and problems for such a tight and complicated project. The construction quality and experience working with Lee Builders were all we hoped they would be. Your team performed above and beyond expectations."
